McFarland's BURGLAR and FIRE PROOF SAFES!

THE undersigned would respectfully call the attention of the public to the above useful safeguard of property—proof against the most destructive element of fire, as well as the most skilful burglar. TO MERCHANTS, JEWELLERS, BANK DIRECTORS, we would only say, examine them and the proofs, and you will be convinced of their superiority over all other manufactures.

Our business is done in a plain, straightforward way, without resorting to humbug or large talk. Below is one of the many testimonials we are receiving from all parts of the country, and which speaks for itself. Messrs. Pond & Hitchcock's Oil Store was situated directly under the ... House and was totally consumed in that great fire of August 25.

New York, Aug. 25, 1853.

Mr. Wm. McFarland & Co.:—It affords us pleasure to inform you that the Fire and Burglar Proof Safe we purchased of you preserved our books and papers, at the disastrous fire of the Pearl-st House, last evening, in a most perfect manner. Although it was ... throughout the fire with burning Rosin, and ... oils, and directly under a broken gas pipe, ... the most intense heat, it remained true to us, and its contents when taken out were not even scorched, and hardly bore the smell of fire. ... any one who is in want of a superior Safe, a ... safeguard against fire, we cheerfully recommend your manufacture, having had a personal experience of their excellence. Yours truly,

B. F. POND & HITCHCOCK.

PATENT SELF HEATING SMOOTHING IRON!

MANY important improvements have been made since the beginning of the present century, relieving and facilitating the labor of men by machinery and other modern implements; but females have been nearly neglected until the introduction of the Patent Self Heating Smoothing Iron, which will relieve them, in a very great degree, from the excessive and fatiguing labor of Ironing, besides being a great saving of time and expense. This Iron combines economy, convenience, saving of labor, and despatch; one cent's worth of dry charcoal supplies fuel for a whole day's constant ironing. Hard wood coal from the stove will answer the same purpose. It can be used in any room or in the open air. Hatters' and Tailors' Irons are constructed upon the same principle, and possess equal superiority.

LETTER FROM HENRY WARD BEECHER IN REPLY TO JOHN MITCHEL.

[From the Independent of Feb. 4.]

You address a very long letter to me, in the Citizen of January 28, 1854, in defence of yourself and of American slavery. That you scout me from among all who reprobated your apostacy from the gospel of human liberty arises, I presume, from reasons of convenience to yourself rather than of compliment to me. I am a clergyman; and it might seem to the unwary a very natural thing to address such an one on arguments upon Hebrew slavery. It is doubtless more agreeable for you to ramble over the records of some thirty four thousand years ago, and to talk about Moses and the patriarchs, than to ponder what John Mitchel—the Irish patriot—said but the other day about American slavery. I shall not admit that new issue to be a safe.

In the article which has excited such surprise, you expressed no opinion about Abraham; you said nothing of what you would have thought it right to do, thirty-four thousand years ago, or Chaldean plains, or if you had been a Jew. It was American slavery that you praised. Hebrew slavery admitted that a slave was a man, with human and spiritual rights and responsibilities, and made ample provision for his religious and civil instruction. American slavery stands upon the fundamental idea that a slave is a chattel, not a man; and it makes the teaching him to read a penitentiary offence, an offence for which Mrs. Douglass now lies in a Virginia prison. This slavery, that destroys manhood by its first touch, you not only justified abstractly, but longed to practice it in Alabama; and thus no doubt might remain of your intention, you volunteered your belief in flogging, and other means of coercing unwilling slaves to their hated tasks.

Now, sir, I don't wonder that you would like to have that forgotten, and that you find it more pleasing to talk learnedly of Moses and the Prophets, than to talk about John Mitchel, and that plantation in Alabama, for whose ownership he is kept only by poverty, not by principle.

Your letter is a very poor argument on a very bad side. But the poverty of its reasoning is the best part of it. No man of your circumstances could make a good argument for voluntary slaveholding without more time for practice. Corruption does not work so quick.—It takes time to round up and ripen a tendency to moral principles.

Under the circumstances, I marvel that you have done so well. Your employments in Ireland for many years, would not be apt to turn your investigations in the direction of arguments for slavery.

Neither was it to be expected that you would spend your leisure in a penal colony, where you expatiated the crime of fanaticism for liberty, in searching out arguments to prove the right of one set of men to own and oppress another.

After your arrival in America, you were so busy in receiving republican congratulations upon the restoration of your own liberty, that you had little time to bestow upon reasons for taking away other men's liberty.

If to these considerations be added some impress natural to new work, and the awkwardness in the discussion of ... topics, and that dizziness which one must be expected to feel after a somerset, I think every one will regard your performance as far beyond anything that could have been expected.

I hope it will not be accounted vanity for me to say that I could have helped you to frame a far better argument in favor of Hebrew slavery. It is a new question to you; it is a very old one to us. I have heaps of trash in my library that you might have added to your rubbish. I have within reach enough clay and straw on that matter, to have builded you an argument huge as an Egyptian pyramid.

If you desire to defend slavery from Scripture, I have by me writers who do that. The Bible has been regarded as a bulwark of oppression by all oppressors. It has opened its doors like a vast magazine, in which every man who wanted to wrong his fellows could find precedent or reason; a shield to slay the innocent, and a shield to cover the guilty. And perennial free-booters there have been a dozen, from Scripture, every wrong that men can ever throw upon; and their tracts and books are thick as the locusts and frogs of Egypt, and as loathsome. And yet, in spite of all sermons and tyrannous interpretations, wherever a free Bible is read, it inspires a free heart and strikes the root of liberty down into men's bosoms with invincible grasp.

If, there are, your argument be regarded, not in the light of your past personal history, but in the comparison of what has been done to make the Bible lie, and what could be done again, you have been but a poor workman.—You have been angling in a petty ditch among pinfish and wriggling vermin. You should have struck right out into those gulfs and bays where prolific oppression has for ages spawned and hatched unnumbered monsters that disport themselves upon the surface, or nuzzle in the slime, or hang poised in silent vigilance for the unwary, like tropical sharks in the warm bays of equatorial waters. If it is your purpose to go on in your new vocation, you will find deep waters and ponderous prey all ready for your sport!

But what has turned to you such waters at all? Had you been in Alabama, had you sucked in Republicanism from the breasts of a Southern gospel, had your conscience been cultivated like a cotton plant and your principles spun from it fine as thread, and as easily wound around any spool that interest might choose to wind in political spinning, we should have been less surprised; for we have learned to be surprised at nothing in moral and political legerdemain. But to see honest, riotous John Mitchel,—audacious and ferocious John Mitchel—whom the world has admired as a Cœur de Lion, thundering with his battle-axe at the postern of the castle of Torquilstone, all his blows rang above the shout of battle; to see this Hercules now sitting with his distaff and patiently spinning on fine threads for the meshes of the worst system of slavery that the world has ever known, his is a moral marvel. At last we are surprised again. The long lost luxury of that feeling has returned.

But of course you did not expect me to follow you into your twilight researches. You had no idea that I should be coaxed away from the real issue between you and the American public into a discussion of Greek and Hebrew slavery.

The question between you and the public is not whether Hebrew slavery was right. Nor whether Roman slavery was right. Nor whether American Slavery is right.

The question is simply this; Can John Mitchel be an American slaveholder, without apostacy from the grounds which he took against the English Government? That is a question about which Mr Mitchel will find little light either in the Greek or Hebrew. That has to be discussed in plain Saxon English.

What was the liberty which you asserted for Ireland? Was a liberty founded upon the inalienable right of every human being to life, liberty and happiness? or was it a liberty founded on the right of the strong to oppress the weak? That is the question which American newspapers are just now discussing, and to which as soon as he has letsure from Mason and the patriarchs, we recommend Mr. Mitchel's attention.

It may be, that the Bible justifies absolutism; or it may be that it inspires and rather not liberty. But which ever way it is, it has nothing to do with your position before the public.

Who cares, just now, whether Abraham might hold slaves, or Moses? We wish to know how a braggadocio to liberty, who has knew how a braggadocio to liberty, who has held the whole world with unreasonable liberty and slave holding.

The patriarchs are the less part of your task. John Mitchel, is the man whom John Mitchel must shake hands with! John Mitchel ten years ago for universal liberty, and John Mitchel now wishing he were at Alabama as slaveowner! John Mitchel in 1848, asserting the liberty of men against the tyrant and serpent, and John Mitchel in 1854, asserting the slave-whip, and the master, against the rights of man.

Crowd these two portraits upon one canvass—if you can. Please let Moses sleep; And do me back from your retreat behind the dust of 4,000 years, to reconcile this Mitchel holding parley with kingsand aristocrats, with John Mitchel flogging slaves through a rice-swamp, or along the rows of plantations!

The public wish to know how it happens, even if Slavery can be defended, that the defence of it should be so congenial a task to Mr. Mitchel. There are some necessary tasks that honorable men do not like to perform. If capital punishment be a lawful social one must be the hangman. If tax gatherers must exist, some poor editor must assume its functions. But what should we think of those very men that had spent their lives in endeavors to abolish the gallows, and put away the loathsome retailing guillotine, should rush into the first vacancy, and private will vociferous pride to our elevation to the dignity of a hangman or an executioner? There were men enough to do the dirty work of Slavery—men born upon a level with their tasks. We did not expect to see a great reformer—a champion of human rights, after an illustrious circumnavigation of the world as a martyr for freedom—using his very first hours of liberty in rubbing down the stiffened spavined limbs of Slavery. So no other man surely to get here been found for such a function.

But we cannot continue this painful strain. The fall of such a man as John Mitchel has been thought to be, cannot exite only indignation. There is pity, too. There is a strong and generous upraising in every heart, protesting that it shall not be! We instinctively feel that this is a dream—one of those dreams of impossible dishonor, that sometime torment good men, and we stand waiting for it to break, and the missionary doctor to fly away back to the lands of murky to fly, where it arose.

O Sir, had all this that has happened, passed in a dream, would you not never asked, bathed in sweat, to say, shuddering, "What a horrid nightmare has been astride of my soul! God save me from ever such writhings of wring!"—That which you would thus feel we do feel for you. That which you would thus ejaculate to God, then speak to each other. I tell you up rose, Sir, when I say that you have fallen down in the sight of the whole community, from the place of champion of liberty to the dastardly office of creeping all the days of your life or your body for slavery.

Once you stood like some great oak, whose wide circumference was lifted up above all the pastures, the glory of all beholders, and a covert for a thousand timid singing-birds. Now you lie at full length along the ground, with mighty ruptured roots, rugged and uprooted to heaven; with broken boughs and despoiled leaves. Never again shall husbandman predict Spring from your swelling buds! Never again shall God's morning birds of liberty come down through all the heavenly air, to rest themselves on your waving top. Fallen! Uprooted! Doomed to the axe and the hearth!

I cannot hide from myself that theory remains for you a dismal age, in desolate and cheerless solitude of infamies. Time, that would have urged you onward, girds itself with achievements worthy of a man living for man, and surrounded with the genial sympathies of loving hearts, now will hurl you up on a dark and lonely shore. You will weep sorely on upon a dark current, like an ever-rolling iceberg, that, rolling and resounding ever so much, gains no real by changing place.

But there is a future to you and me, even on earth. There is a time to be dead, and already drawing, in which the humble family shall be one great brotherhood, and love shall be the law of the man. In that golden age there shall be search made for all the times that since the world began, have wrongs and suffered for the good or their time. There will be a memorable resurrection of forgotten names. From the obscurity into which Lee Onion has flung all who dared to defy it, from the shades and darkness of oblivion by which oppressors would cover down the memory of I. who proclaimed human right and human liberty, they will come forth shining like the sun, and none be forgotten that labored to bring to pass the world's freedom! In that day, while ten thousand names shall be heard, or a hundred numbers not one shall utter that gone and forgotten name—John Mitchel.

But, come back to us, John Mitchel, it is not yet too late. Our hearts and our hands shall help you, if you will cast stir yourself to break that unclean incest by some malign miasma, come from the misty realm of cruel oppression, has breathed upon you. The enchantment and the enchanter are dispossessed when any bold hand and stalwart mind exercise his wand. Reverse your utterances! You have been betrayed into saying a great folly. You have been betrayed into a gross and doubtful defence of it. If you abide by it, it will sink you out of the sight of all good men, and for ever.—But recall it! Reverse the spell! Say to us—"I spoke it in my anger, and I defended it by my wrath; but it is not worthy of me. It is not the truth of my heart, or of my nature." Those is a power of expression for you in those few words a great flight of God's first Angel. It will lift you to us our hearts again. It will place you where God's crown, with which he will crown all true and noble souls, shall rest undimmed upon your brow!

But, if you will not assert your better nature and achieve the noblest act of your life, a victory over yourself, then, sorrowfully, we must leave you, Recreant, false and hideous image, around which, for the moment, chattering priests of oppression Love burned incense, but soon to be cast out, even by them, a despised and desecrated idol, forgotten of men, and remembered only of reptile lizards that crawl shrinking beneath the weight of poisonous weeds that grow and twine about it.

—Miss Dix, the Philanthropic lady, who is doing a great amount of service to our country, is now in Washington, asking for a donation of public land to build an institute for the insane. Col. Benton has promised to advocate the measure.

FRIDAY, FEB. 10, 1854.

☞ The New York Sun, with strong democratic sympathies, fully and emphatically declares, in reference to the Nebraska bill, that American republicanism means something more than the profits of trade, the price of cotton and the price of Alabama or Virginia slaves. If it did not, it would not be worth preserving.—There would be nothing in it, or of it, for the world to admire; except, perhaps, the degree of animal enjoyment to be found within the wide domains over which it has stretched its authority. When therefore, we are asked to be traitors to republicanism that trade may flourish and slave production multiply and extend, we answer with an emphatic negative.—Our republicanism is Christian, not Grecian or Roman, and we look to higher and better results from our civilization, than the bequeathing to posterity of a few poems and statues, some broken columns, and the ruins of our great cities.

If open, Nebraska is to be rescued from the savage Indian, we protest against its being devoted to the ignorant, degraded and enslaved African, by a flagrant breach of faith and the reason of men who call themselves lovers of liberty. Northern men are not bound by any compact to consent to the extension of slavery into Nebraska. The compact is the inner way. The Missouri compact has, since 1820, been considered as protecting all territory north of the parallel of 36° degrees and 30 minutes from the desecrating march of slavery. It is now contended by Senator Douglas and his supporters, that the Missouri compromise is unconstitutional. We would like to know what part of the constitution of the United States sustains that opinion. That instrument opens no path for slavery into new territories. It simply provides for the reclamation of persons held to service or labor, who may escape from the State in which that service or labor is due.

The Aca interruption we approve is that which requests non, resolves, and leaves to the proper constitutional authority the decision of their constitutionality. It is not non-intervention that suggests compromises. It is not non-intervention which abrogates treaties, and permits to one of the parties that which he has willingly consented to forego. It is not non-intervention to open Nebraska to the slavery of the South, and close the free labor of the North with the hope that it may eventually succeed in getting rid of slave labor competition in the new territory.

FROM AUGUSTA.

Augusta, Feb. 9.

Friday at twelve o'clock is fixed upon to ballot for United States Senator by both Houses. If no opposition by all sorts of contrivances, but carried steadily through.

The organization of the Senate was made permanent by the Crosby Senators, excepting Clark of Lincoln.

Moore is President.

☞ The price of tickets for the second and last lecture of Charles Lowell, Esq. for this evening, at the City Hall, has been reduced to 12½ cents, at the suggestion of friends, and in order to accommodate a large audience. The lecture this evening, will be one of Mr. Lowell's best, and strongly marked with his rare felicity of language, his unique and taking conceits thrillathes of his keen wit, and the glow of his genial humor. In these points, Mr. Lowell has no superior and rarely finds an equal. We anticipate a rich treat.

☞ The spirited letter of Henry Ward Beecher, which we publish to-day, has had a decided effect on the sales of Mr. Mitchel's Citizen in New York. The only service for Mr. Mitchel is to follow the counsel of Mr. Beecher, back out from his strange position, take a clear-sighted view of American slavery as a social and political evil with which he will have no fellowship. Let him be John Mitchel throughout, if his consistent approver of oppression in whatever form it shall appear.

☞ The dollar subscription to the Valentine demonstration will close to-morrow evening, and the little fellows who would like to have their names go before their old master for honorable remembrances should be active. The paper is not yet in!

☞ The lecture by Rev. Mr. Caldwell before the Mechanics' Association has been necessarily postponed to Friday evening of next week. This evening the Association will continue the debate on Tea Parties and Ladies' Lecean.

☞ There was a change of fifteen degrees in the temperature of the weather here on Wednesday evening, when a snow storm came on, with a piercing, warm rain. The weather yesterday was bright, spring-like and beautiful.

☞ Capt. Wm. Flowers yesterday obtained a verdict before the Supreme Court of $403 damages, in an action against the city, for a defective plank walk, by which his daughter fell and broke her arm.

☞ The Railroad Loan Bills are to come before the committee of the Legislature this afternoon. They will probably be passed over, though much opposition.

☞ The traveling just now is a little slumpy, but a few hours cold weather will put all right again. The western mail due yesterday morning, was greatly delayed.

Fire at Monmouth.—On Monday morning last, the house of Mr. Daniel Prescott of Monmouth, was destroyed by fire, with all the furniture and provisions, and about $100 in money. Mr. Prescott and his wife are an aged couple, and residing at a distance from other habitations, suffered severely from being turned out in their night-clothes in the intense cold.—Mrs. P. had her feet badly frozen. We believe there was no insurance on the house or furniture.—Kennebec Journal.

Hon. Stephen Chase, formerly of Fryeburg, and a member of the Maine Senate, was married in San Francisco on the 20th of December to Miss Elizabeth J. Dunlap, formerly of Portland.

ARRIVAL OF THE

PACIFIC,

AT NEW YORK.

New York, Feb. 9th

The steamship Pacific, from Liverpool, Wednesday, Jan. 25th, arrived at 3 o'clock, this P. M.

Steamship Africa arrived at Liverpool on the evening of the 23d. Ship Antaric had arrived out with the rescued passengers from the San Francisco.

The splendid new iron emigrant ship Tayleur, from Liverpool 19th for Melbourne, struck a sunken rock in Dublin bay, and four hundred lives were lost. Several other small casualties had occurred along the Irish coast.

No official reply is received from the Czar of Russia relative to the Eastern question. There is no abatement in actual hostilities, and the preparations for war are continued, but no further battles are reported, either on the Danube or in Asia. The allied fleets were last seen steering for Batoum, with a fair wind. The Russian fleet was also at sea.

The very latest despatch on the morning of the sailing of the Pacific, says, on the authority of the London Times, that the Czar has not proceeded to extreme measures. On learning of the entry of the allied fleets into the Black Sea he replies by a question—"Are the fleets to observe a strict neutrality or take active part with the Turks?" The answer to the above is of little consequence, as the Czar's final reply to the note of Vienna must come now on its way to the Western governments.—The above, however, had a favorable influence on the Paris Bourse. Military movements continue along the Danube, but no further battles are reported.

The English people, seeing the imminency of war, appear to have made up their minds to the necessity, and quietly accepted it.

A telegraphic despatch from Vienna states that it has transpired that the Czar's final reply will be a contemptuous refusal of the Vienna note, also referring Turkey to Prince Gortschakoff for further particulars, asserting positively, that Russia will not give up one jot of Menschikoff's first demand. The India and China mail is telegraphed with Calcutta dates to the 29th. Trade in India dull.

From Washington.

Washington, Feb. 9th.

Mr. Everett's speech on the Nebraska bill is acknowledged on all sides to have been the most eloquent effort which has been drawn out by the question. He thoroughly demolished all the pretensions which Mr. Douglas bases his bill upon, and showed the last form of it to be as bad as the first.

At the close he denied that non-intervention with slavery in the territories was any principle established by Congress. In every territorial bill Congress had reserved the right to disapprove of any act of the Territorial Legislature, and the records would show that in numerous instances Congress had disapproved of territorial legislation.

He regretted that any proposition for the repeal of the Missouri compromise had been made, more particularly when there was no expectation that any benefit would result from it. It was admitted that the climate would not suit slavery. That slaveholders would not desert the cotton fields and sugar plantations to carry their slaves into the rigorous climate of Nebraska. The longer continuance of the prohibition would not be degrading. It must be slave or free territory—it cannot be both. He read a letter from Mr. Pinkpey of South Carolina, written late on the night of the passage of the Missouri act, in which it was said, the South had secured by the bargain Missouri, Florida, Arkansas and perhaps another State; that the territory north of 36 degrees 30 minutes was occupied by Indians, would not be settled for years, was unsuited for slave labor, and this it was considered a Southern victory of slavery.

He (Mr. Everett) had but a word to say.—His career was fast drawing to a close. It would end as it had begun, without the use of reproach towards any, but always by words of conciliation and harmony. He allowed to others what he claimed for himself, credit for purity and honesty of motive. He had never, and would not now, use unto others words calculated to kindle unkind feelings. So far as his opinion as to slavery was concerned, he shared the sentiment of the people of the State where he was born, where he desired his ashes should rest, and where his children should succeed him.

He rejoices to hear the Senator from Ky. say that the providence of God would find out in his own time the proper channels to remove the evil, but the work of three centuries could not be undone in a day. Time would pronounce on those political sentiments harmonize with my own. I make this early and public declaration for the purpose of inviting others as well as myself from any unnecessary expenditure of time and effort in this direction.

Political parties are unwilling to carry form of government which is the creature of thought and not of force are to exist. Such doctrines are to be deprecated, for in the weakness of human nature it is the watchful eye which each keeps upon the movement of the other, that we can build the confidence for integrity in the administration of government, and the preservation of civil and the famous liberty. It is only when plunder, rather than principle, becomes the cohesive power of party, that party becomes unmitigated evil. Political parties should be, as with us they have long been and as I trust they ever may be the exponent of principles. To abandon the one, is to renounce the other. The right of every man to do is unquestionable; convinced of error, that right he owes a duty; a duty which should be discharged boldly, fearlessly, manfully. No party or sub-organization should be permitted to screen its opponents, on anticipation of personal profit or aggrandizement admitted as a justification for the abandonment of party and principle. The integrity of the individual members of political parties, of the parties themselves, and of the Union, rest upon sound and each involves the destiny of the other.

Although, in the position of many, party is slow to respond and sceptical, it is not the less true. Party exercises a great influence. They are fully represented in our State, but I am unable to answer any question to come before you for consideration, which will not call for the discussion of principles of political faith, or their modes of action; or why not for examine, which may call into exercise partisan action. I refer to the election of a county in 9 Commissioners existing in my representation from this county, and the duties of Governor, and I cannot be permitted to expedite the hour, perhaps a little sooner than may be disposed of at an early stage of the session, and not be permitted to interfere with or retard the more important business for which you are convened. It is the part of the party organization and party to discover in public which shall prove worthy of your confidence and support, to conform a public character and harmony upon the whole, and from furnishing your constituents, by a judicious improvement of time, with conclusive evidence that devotion to their interests rather than the possession for place and its emoluments, is with you the controlling principle.

It is a part of the party organization that shall suggest to give to the legislature, from time to time, information of the condition of the State and to recommend to their consideration such measures as may deem expedient.

The annual reports of the state treasurer, the land agent, the adjutant general, and the executive officers of the several departments will be laid before you. I am informed by the treasurer that the receipts into the treasury for the year ending on the 31st inst. will exceed the expenditures for the same period by $75 000. These reports will furnish you with all necessary information in relation to the present condition of the finances of the state, its lands and other properties and its requirements.

In performance of the other branch of duty devolved upon me, I now rise to recommend to you, first of all legislation more than the unquestionable wants of the people, the protection of their rights, and the promotion of their interests render obligatory necessary. It is not to be understood by the enactment of these that no further legislation is needed. New combinations of circumstances, new emergencies will of course conspire to arise, as new fields of enterprise are opened, calling for the exercise of the legislative power.

But it has been for some time very apparent that the demand for legislation has exceeded the capacity for it—legislation originally for the benefit of the whole people, but designed in reality to meet the case with the few who were unobjectionable, to say nothing of the injustice in many instances to the whole people, of the enactment of laws to subserve public purposes, is silence in the wisdom of a majority of the body of the power. The attempt to provide by law for every case which may by possibility arise is ever proved impossible and. It is vain to look for perfection in human legislation. The attempt to arrive at it by amendments and acts designed to correct and improve, only tends to confusion. As a theory of code I believe to be the best made for the interests of the people of the State, and upon the statute book as it is, every attempt to improve it by some of its provisions, tends to helpless inability. Legislation is required to know the laws. Such being the case recognized and enforced by our courts in the administration of justice, it seem justice due to every man that our laws should be so few and so free from complexity as possible.

So inflicting portion of the session of the legislature is often consumed in what is termed special legislation, legislation directly for individuals, but pre-united to be, in effect, for the benefit of the whole people. Such legislation is necessary to the minutes relations which charter tories as one people, is exceptions is to be inherent to such. But it will not be denied by you, that in so legislating for one individual you should have a careful regard for the interests of the others, and she hell to it that the not avail rights of every citizen, as well as those occupied by the same individual, are not hilly injured.

There are a few subjects of general interest, to which I desire, very briefly, to direct your attention at this time, reserving as a subject for future communication others of equal importance.

The contract entered into by the Commissioners appointed at the last annual session of the legislature for the purchase of the public lands lying in the state and belonging to the commonwealth of Massachusetts and ratified by the legislature at its late special session has been perfected and the talent Massachusetts transferred to this state. The conflicting interests which during the greater portion of our existence as an independent state have embarrassed the management of our public lands, and in no slight degree retarded their settlement and improvement have ceased to exist, and we are now at liberty to adopt and pursue unembarrassed, such policy in the management and disposal of the entire public domain as may be deemed most for our interest. What the wisest policy, you are to decide, and it is a question upon which there will be found to be probably no little diversity of opinion.

The first instalment of the debt incurred by the purchase of the Massachusetts lands will not become due until the year eighteen hundred sixty-three. The necessity for a forced sale of the lands purchased, therefore, does not now exist. Yet, for many reasons most obvious to every mind, immediate sales, to any amount, of lands suitable for agricultural purposes, to enter upon and improve them with a view to a permanent settlement, are desirable. No readier method of augmenting the resources of the state can be devised than by adding to its population and taxable property. Sales of lands to actual settlers tend directly to this end; and that will be judicious legislation which holds out strong inducements to the young, industrious, and enterprising population of our own and other states to become purchasers.

How strand these inducements should be I will not undertake to decide, but it requires no great amount of agricultural skill to arrive at the conclusion that the acquisition of any one individual, intelligent, enterprising citizen, is worth far more to the state than the lot of land he enter upon and cultivate would be were it to remain uncultivated.

It has heretofore been regarded sound policy for the state to encourage settlements upon her lands by making, directly or indirectly, in the construction of roads and bridges in relieving settlers from some of the burthens of citizenship, and granting to them certain rights and privileges. That no reason why that policy should be abandoned. An examination of the subject may bring your minds to the conclusion that it will be for the interest of the state to offer still stronger and more certain by adopting a policy more liberal, even, than she has heretofore deemed the public.

Although the suggest or before made applies more particularly to sales of lands adapted to agricultural purposes, it is with some qualifications, equally applicable to a portion of those usually denominated timber lands. To throw into the market at once all our timber lands, or to withdraw them entirely, would be, to my mind, alike inexpedient and injudicious. They should be carefully, but prudently, husbanded as a fund from which the debt incurred in their purchase and management is ultimately to be paid, and at the same time no one should be made of developing and employing the enterprising and industrious forts of our citizens. With such the attainment of these objects last named, it seems to me that it will be such, as well as policy, that such lands as shall be had will be sold in limited capital, so as to afford a hold for the investment of their labor by practical operations, to actual purchasers directly from the State. This may be accomplished by proportioning the sale of sections of townships in the same mode and upon the same terms, as entire townships may be sold and, perhaps, by granting limited periods in some localities, which upon examination shall be deemed advantageous to the state to dispose of the timber without the soil.

There will remain a large quantity of land well timbered, which, although not demanded by the present exigencies of the market must soon be, probably, of much enhanced price. This reserved by the state will be ready to meet, as a source of income and to meet the demand which, in the natural course of business, will from time to time arise.

All sales of public lands except such as are required for settling purposes having been suspended, by a resolve of a late session of the legislature, I presume that the commissioner will be prepared to receive proposals, after public notice, although proposals, after public notice, although proposals for the sale of lands, comprises sub-monthly, in view I entertain of the best and most policy to be adopted. Under such or similar regulations a fair field is opened for honorable competition among purchasers, and the possibility of fraud excluded. Without intending to pass in the speculation against the administration of the land office, which has for many years presided, and without intending to express a doubt of the gentlemen who have charge of it, I feel it to be right to call your attention to the general subject, and leave you to judge whether something further is not required.—whether the circumstances of the people do not require that something further should be done to give a more thorough and earnest efficiency to those seminaries of humbler pretensions, but of far higher importance to the people at large—our public schools. With this object in view, the Legislature in 1846 established a Board of Education, and in 1847, Teachers' Institutes. Whether a subsequent Legislature acted wisely in abolishing both, it does not become me to decide. But believing as my convictions that the substitute provided by the Legislature, is totally inadequate to the attainment of the object in view, that I do not hesitate to recommend the repeal of the Act creating it. I refer to the Act establishing the office of Commissioner of Common Schools for each county in the State, approved April 26, 1852.

I would not be understood as entertaining the opinion that there is no necessity for a general superintendence and supervision of our public schools, or that they would not derive essential benefit, directly or indirectly, from the efforts of any one devoted laborers in the cause, of popular education. But the superintendence of a skilful, competent teachers rather than of committees or commissioners is the great want. Supply this, great, and you give an additional motive power to the mightiest engine which human ingenuity has ever devised or employed for the advancement of mental and moral freedom.

I should be happy to lay before you at this time, the information contemplated by a resolve passed at the last session, having reference to the education of teachers for the common schools, but circumstances beyond my control prevent. The authority conferred by that Resolve having expired by limitation, I suggest to you the expediency of re-passing one, should nothing definite as to the subject be accomplished at the present session. From the interest heretofore manifested, and from recent indications of public sentiment, I infer that your attention will be called to this subject, and I bespeak for it your favorable consideration.

In my last official communication to the Legislature, I recommended the appropriation of a sum of money sufficient to complete the agricultural and geological survey of the State, commenced some years since, but, in my estimation, prematurely suspended. I did so on the belief that the pecuniary interests of the State would be promoted thereby. The bare fact that in a large majority of the States composing the Union similar surveys have been completed, or are now in progress, constitutes of itself alone a good reason why Maine should not be behind her sister states in the attempt to discover and develop her natural resources. But the direct profit, established by official reports, that the results of those surveys has been without exception, the discovery of sources of wealth before unknown, furnishes a still stronger reason for the prosecution of the work in the State. No reasonable doubt can be entertained, that it will, sooner or later, be resumed and completed. The longer it is delayed, the longer will it much of the natural wealth of the State as would be brought to light by it, remain unproductive. A careful review of the reasons which induced me to recommend this measure to the favorable consideration of your predecessors, has strengthened my conviction of its importance, and I am constrained by a sense of duty to renew the recommendation.

The Consular Convention of the 23d of February last, between the United States and France, contains a stipulation on the part of the United States, that the President shall recommend to those States of the Union by whose existing laws aliens are not permitted to hold real estate, the passage of such laws as may be necessary for the purpose of conveying that right. I have to inform you that in accordance with the stipulation adverted to, the President has communicated to the Executive of this State, his recommendation—that of French subjects are not allowed to hold real estate in Maine under existing laws, that right may be conferred upon them.

The embarrassments which have attended the organization of the State Government at the present session, growing out of the failure, on the part of the people to elect a majority of the members of one branch of the Legislature, and the strong probability of a recurrence of the same difficulties, cannot fail to suggest to you, and the people of the state at large, the expediency, if not the necessity of some change in our Constitution. I recommend to your consideration of the subject any measures necessary to effect such a change.

I congratulate you, gentlemen, and our fellow citizens at large, upon the present highly prosperous condition of our State in its various interests. The conviction which cannot fail to exist in every observing mind, that this prosperity is not merely fortuitous, temporary, the effect of some extraordinary cause liable to any moment to be removed, but rather the legitimate consequence of enterprise wisely directed, and labor judiciously employed, renders it still more a proper subject for congratulation.

So far as it is within our power, by legislative action, to encourage industrial effort, whether by developing the resources of the State, thereby opening new fields for enterprise, or by furnishing additional facilities and inducements for the investment of capital, it is our duty to do. I look to prosperity at home as the means of staying the tide of emigration which has been setting so strongly to the west, and recalling back many of our young and vigorous population now seeking employment and a competence abroad. No measure which will tend to produce results so desirable should be left untried.

I congratulate you also, as citizens of the Republic, upon our present prosperous condition as a nation. Maintaining, as I trust we ever may, amicable relations with all the civilized nations of the earth, in the free enjoyment of all the blessings and privileges in their gift popular form of government, we are gradually fulfilling the mission assigned to us. That there are dangers in our pathway, is not to be disguised. Some, perhaps, which human foresight has failed to discover, and which human legislation cannot avert. Others against which ordinary self guard is to be found in the manifestations of public and individual integrity, in a jealous vigilance, and an unwavering and incorruptible patriotism. The people look to those occupying places of honor and trust for an example in their published private action, not only as a recognition of their obligations to the people, in return for the confidence reposed in them, but as a guarantee that that confidence will not be betrayed. There is a power mightier, for good or evil, than any law the legislature can enact, or the Executive enforce, the power of example. Emanating alike from the most exalted and lowliest station,—from the mightiest nation and the humblest individual,—it may operate as an incentive to noble action, or furnish an apology for grovelling crime. No act of legislation can exhibit the standard of patriotism or integrity, or arrest the rushing flood of extravagance which too often follows in the wake of prosperity; but by a rigid adherence to the rules of right—by a self-sacrificing devotion of their time and talents to the advancement of the public welfare,—by an economical administration of their own affairs, are those of the State and Nation,—legislators may furnish an example, the influence of which will be felt through all classes and conditions of society. Guided by the light of this truth, you cannot deviate from the path of duty.

In conclusion, gentlemen, allow me to tender to you the assurance of my cordial co-operation in the discharge of your high duties, and to express the hope that the results of your various deliberations may be such as will reflect honor upon yourselves and the State.

GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the Senate, and House of Representatives:

The people of this State have confided to you an important trust. You have accepted it, and pledged yourselves to the faithful performance of the duties it devolves upon you. What those duties are, the constitution briefly defines in conferring upon you authority to make and establish all reasonable laws and regulations for the defence and benefit of the people. The people have a right to require of you a strict adherence to the line of duty thus clearly indicated. Any deviation from it must lead to the assumption of authority not conferred, the exercise of functions not delegated. The welfare of the people, the destinies of the State for the time being are entrusted to your keeping, and viewed aright, it is a high, sacred and momentous trust,—one not thoughtlessly to be assumed nor lightly to be regarded,—one which should quicken every mind with a consciousness of responsibility and a steadfast resolution that the people's rights, the promotion of their interests, shall constitute the sole object of deliberation, and that nothing foreign to that object shall be permitted to occupy your time or thought at least unless.

In this hall of allusion to your duties and personal sibilities, I am not unmindful of those which are attached to the position which you, as representatives of the people, and in the mode prescribed by the constitution, have assigned to me. In assuming these responsibilities, and entering upon the performance of these duties, looking for strength and guidance to Him who presides over the destinies of men and nations. The selection from the ranks of the following most approved people, whose will is to be consulted in the discharge of public duty, or their modes of action; or why not be examine, which may call into exercise partisan action. I refer to the election of a county in 9 Commissioners existing in my representation from this county, and the duties of Governor, and I cannot be permitted to expedite the hour, perhaps a little sooner than may be disposed of at an early stage of the session, and not be permitted to interfere with or retard the more important business for which you are convened. ## CHERRY PECTORAL,

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

Among the numerous discoveries Science has made in this generation to facilitate the business of life—increase its enjoyment and even prolong the term of human existence, none can be named of more real value to mankind than this contribution of Chemistry to the Healing Art. A vast trial of its virtues throughout this broad country, has proven beyond a doubt, that no medicine or combination of medicines yet known can so surely control the varieties of pulmonary disease which have hitherto swept from our midst thousands and thousands every year. Indeed, there is now abundant reason to believe a Remedy has at length been found which can be relied on to cure the most dangerous affections of the lungs. Our space here will not permit us to publish any proportion of the cures effected by its use, but we would present the following:—and refer further enquiry to my American Almanac, which the agent below named will always be pleased to furnish free, wherein are full particulars and indisputable proof of these statements.

Office of Transportation, Laurens R. R., S. C., Aug. 4 1853.

J. C. AYER, Dear Sir—My little son four years old has just recovered from a severe attack of Malignant Scarlet Fever, his throat was rotten, and every person that visited him pronounced him a dead child. Having used your Cherry Pectoral in California, in the winter of 1850 for a severe attack of Bronchitis, with entire success, I was induced to try it on my little boy. I gave him a teaspoonful every three hours, commencing in the evening, and by ten o'clock at night I found a decided change for the better, and after three days use he was able to eat or drink without pain.

Its use in the above named disease will save many a child from a premature grave, and relieve the anxiety of many a fond parent. For all affections of the Throat and Lungs I do believe it the best medicine extant. A feeling of gratitude prompts me in addressing you these lines,—but for your important discovery my little boy would now have been in another world.

Rock Hill, (Somerset Co.) N. J., July 21, 1852.

Dr. J. C. Ayer—Since your medicine has been introduced here, it has a greater demand than any other cough remedy we have ever sold. It is spoken of in the highest terms by those who have used it, and I know of some cases where the best has been done. I do not think too much for the good it has done. I take pleasure in selling it, because I know that I am giving my customers the worth of their money, and I feel gratified in seeing the benefit it confers.

Please send me another supply, and believe me

Yours with respect, JOHN C. WHITLOCK.

MEDICATED INHALATION.

A NEW METHOD.

A MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY has recently been made by Dr. CURTIS, of this city, for the cure of Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Lung Complaints, by Medicated Inhalation. Dr. CURTIS'S HYGEANA, or INHALING HYGEAN VAPOR and CHERRY SYRUP, has accomplished the most wonderful cures of Asthma and Consumption in the city of New York and vicinity for a few months past, ever known to man. It is producing an impression on the disease of the Lungs never before witnessed by the medical profession. [See certificates in hands of Agents.]

The Inhaler is worn on the breast under the linen, without the least inconvenience, the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid, supplying the lungs constantly with a pleasing and agreeable vapor, passing into all the air cells and passages of the lungs, that cannot possibly be reached by any other medicine. Here is a case of Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 10, 1853.

For about eight years I have been severely afflicted with the Asthma. For the last two years I have suffered beyond all my powers of description; months at a time, have not been able to sleep in a bed, getting what rest I could sitting in my chair. My difficulty of breathing and my sufferings were so great at times, that for hours together my friends expected each hour would be my last. During the past six years I have had the aid and attendance of some of the most celebrated physicians, but have received no permanent benefit, and but little relief. I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr. Curtis's Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup. At the time I first obtained it, I was suffering under one of my most violent attacks, and was in great distress, almost suffocating for want of breath. In less than ten minutes from the time I applied the Inhaler to my stomach, and took a teaspoonful of the Cherry Syrup, was relieved in a great measure from the difficulty of breathing, and had a comfortable night. I have since continued it with the greatest possible benefit, and am now comparatively well. God only knows the amount of suffering this medicine has relieved me from. My advice to the suffering is—try it.

MARGARET EASTON.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

New York, Dec. 27th, 1853.

I came to New York in the ship Telegraph; my native place is St John, New Brunswick; when I reached this city my health was very poor; had a bad cough, raised a good deal of matter, which was frequently mixed with blood; had pain in my left side, and was very weak and emaciated. My friends and physician pronounced my case Consumption, and beyond the reach of medicine. I accidentally heard of Dr. Curtis's Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup, and obtained a package, which I verily believe was the means of saving my life. Soon after wearing the Inhaler, I found it relieved the pressure on my lungs, and after a while the disease made its appearance upon the surface under the Inhaler. I took the Cherry Syrup as directed, and continued to do so, my cough gradually grew better, until it entirely left me, and I now consider myself cured. I still wear the Inhaler, as the use of it is rather pleasant, and believing it strengthening and purifying to the lungs, I feel unwilling at present to dispense with it. JOHN WOOD.

Fashionable Eating House!

Knowles & Johnson,

No. 5 Bowman's Block, East End of Kenduskeag Bridge, Bangor.

WE have opened a beautiful establishment for the sale of

and have several apartments and well finished rooms fitted up with Marble Tables, for the purpose of furnishing to gentlemen, and also to ladies and gentlemen, a nice Lunch in the shape of a Luncheon, or a neat and comfortable Meal, at any hour of the day and at a moment's notice.

☞The entrance to the Ladies' Saloon is by the stairway entrance to the Mercantile Association Reading Room.

This is a fast age, and gentlemen visiting the city with their wives do not like a long, tedious waiting for a set and formal dinner under the ponderous machinery of a hotel, and our plan is to give them an elegant meal in our Saloon, without the annoyance, and at about half the hotel price. A gentleman in a hurry, a gentleman belated or obstructed by a stormy day, can pop in, get a nice meal without trouble, and with little loss of time.

We have made the arrangement in one of the most convenient and popular arrangements suited to the times, and we intend to keep up to respectability.

OYSTERS served in all the various styles.

Pies, Pastry, Fruits, Preserves, Nuts, Apples, Oranges, Hot Tea, Hot Coffee.

Families and Parties served with all varieties of the above, in any quantity, and at reasonable prices.

HOT CORN.

Opinions of the Religious press

HENRY WARD BEECHER, in the New York Independent, says—"Let it speed—May its numbers be as great as the leaves in summer. May thousands sit down under its shadow with delight, and rise up refreshed and made kinder and better men. And may Solon Robinson live to write a hundred books more each one better than the other."

The N. Y. Evangelist, a leading Presbyterian paper, says of these stories—"They evince a dramatic skill worthy of Dickens, and powerfully appeal in behalf of the poor, vicious and down-trodden, on grounds which sound Christian morality and feeling cannot but approve of. Any thing more touching than The Little Hot Corn Girl, or indeed than most of these transcripts from the terrible realities of life, we have seldom encountered."

From the Methodist Protestant, Baltimore, Md. "No man can read it who has a spark of philanthropy in his bosom without feeling a strong desire to do something for the poor and wretched, to look with more compassionate glance upon the outcasts from society, and especially to seek to remove from the atmosphere of vice those helpless and innocent children who are cradled in sin and nourished in iniquity."

From the Religious Recorder, Syracuse, N Y—"Let the volume be read."

From the Religious Herald, Hartford, Conn.—"A great and good work will the circulation of this Book effect."

MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

MR KENNEDY of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.—He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the very worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There are no ifs nor ands, hums nor ha's about it suiting some case but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some who have taken it have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it—on the contrary when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

The Boston Journal.

Published Daily, Semi-Weekly, and Weekly.

TERMS.

DAILY in advance, ............Six Dollars a year.
SINGLE COPIES, ............Two cents.
SEMI WEEKLY, ............Four Dollars a year.
WEEKLY, ............Two "
JOURNAL FOR CALIFORNIA ..Six cents per copy.

The proprietors of the BOSTON JOURNAL, some three years since adopted the low price cash plan by the circulation of the paper and have met with a success beyond their anticipation. Convinced that this course is the most profitable to themselves, their readers, and their advertising friends, they are determined to adhere to the system, and although the expense of publishing the newspaper has increased enormously within a few years the subscription and cash prices of the Daily, Semi Weekly, Weekly, and California Journal, will remain the same, while no expense and no money, time or labor will be spared to keep the Journal in advance of all its contemporaries, in every point which goes to make up a Live Newspaper of the present day.

THE DAILY JOURNAL,

Although furnished at the low price of TWO CENTS a copy contains MORE READING MATTER than any other daily paper in Boston. It is published and embraces all that is desirable to contain the VERY LATEST NEWS received by the Mails and Telegraph to the moment of publication. It is the determination of the proprietors to make it emphatically and in every sense of the word, and as such it will report and record the doings of all parties and sects. It will give full and complete reports of the state of the Markets, a full and accurate Shipping List, doings at the Stock Exchange, and Money Articles from a competent source, full reports of the debates in Congress, able reports of all Lectures of interest, full and complete account of Public Meetings, with complete reports of the speeches, when the occasion requires, &c. &c. Indeed, the reader of the Daily Journal may be sure of finding a record of everything of general interest which transpires either at home or abroad. By arrangements made to establish EXTENSIVE CORRESPONDENCE, and by a liberal use of the

Morning and Evening,

A NEWSPAPER

the Journal will at all times be in advance of the other papers, and by the publication of a complete paper both

MORNING AND EVENING,

the proprietors are enabled to send by

which leaves the city during the day their editions of the news not unfrequently from 12 to 24 hours in advance of those papers which print only one edition daily. The Journal is printed on one of HOE'S CELEBRATED FOUR CYLINDER FAST PRESSES, capable of printing TEN THOUSAND AN HOUR, and we are thus enabled to wait for news until the latest moment, and still supply the demand however large.

As some evidence of the success which has attended the publication of the Journal, the proprietors would state that its circulation is now more than TEN TIMES AS LARGE as in 1847—and more than SIX TIMES AS LARGE as in 1848—periods of two and five years—and that its present ratio of increase is larger than at any time during the last five years. Its present circulation is LARGER BY 10,000 than ANY SUBSCRIPTION or TWO CENT PAPER PUBLISHED IN BOSTON OR NEW ENGLAND!

Either edition will be mailed or sent by express at the rates mentioned above for any length of time the subscriber may wish. It is delivered by faithful carriers in all parts of Boston and adjoining cities, both Morning and Evening, and is for sale at the Periodical Depots, and in all of the large towns and cities in the line of the Railroads throughout New England.

TO ADVERTISERS.

Advertisements are inserted at fair prices, in clear type, set up in a uniform style and arranged under appropriate heads, so as to attract the attention of the readers.

The great value of the Journal, as an advertising medium may be inferred from the fact that ALL ADVERTISEMENTS appear in both MORNING and EVENING papers without any EXTRA CHARGE, thus securing to advertisers the benefit of two papers at one price, and the

of any subscription paper in New England. Advertisements in the Weekly, Semi Weekly, or California Journal, will be subject to an additional charge for each paper.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY JOURNAL

Is published Tuesday and Friday mornings, at Four Dollars a year in advance. It contains all the reading and business matter of the Daily for those days, and is valuable for country circulation.

THE WEEKLY JOURNAL

Is made up expressly for country circulation, and contains a vast amount of miscellaneous and news matter, reports of Lectures, meetings, &c. It is published every Thursday morning, at Two Dollars a year in advance, handsomely printed on good paper, with fair type. As it has enjoyed an enviable reputation during a long series of years. Its circulation through all New England is very large and is constantly increasing.

THE JOURNAL FOR CALIFORNIA

Is made up prior to the sailing of each mail steamer, especially for Circulation in California, and is a welcome visitor to thousands who have left their homes in search of fortune in the Golden State. It is sent by mail, or sold at the publication office, at six cents a copy.

All orders for either of the above papers should be accompanied by the cash, and addressed to the publishers,

During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

Ratchet and Spiral Trusses,

ALL the various approved TRUSSES constantly on hand.

Ladies waited upon by Mrs Caroline D Foster, who has had twenty years' experience in the business.

He will keep a full supply of ready made Trusses for Gentlemen and Ladies, Youths and Infants—Abdominal Supporters of five or six different kinds, such as Hull's, Chapin's Spiral, Cutter's, Fitch's, Ingalls, &c., &c.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following is from Dr John C. Warren, of Boston, was given 17 years since but will apply forever.

Boston, Jan 5 1852.

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia, have suffered much from the want of skilful workmen in accommodating Trusses to the peculiarities of their cases, I have taken pains to inform myself of the competency of Mr J. F. Foster to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr. Beath—After some months of observation of his work, I am well satisfied that Mr Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments and ingenious in accommodating to the variety of cases which occur. I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren, and to the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants in regard to these important articles.

JOHN C. WARREN, M. D.

The undersigned take great pleasure in recommending to the favorable consideration of those who are so happily afflicted with Hernia Mr. James Frederick Foster as a skilful and competent person in the manufacture and fitting of Trusses. We have employed him (some of us over twenty years) and therefore speak from personal knowledge of his ability. His early advantages and long experience in the business and the large number of individuals whom he has relieved in a variety of cases render him, in our opinion, if not superior to any manufacturer of the article. His father Ben. Gideon Foster, of Charlestown, was master of the Fort House in that town for upwards of twenty five years during which period Mr. Foster availed himself of the opportunity, and made application of Trusses to a great variety of cases, with great success some of which were of a very complicated and distressing character.

It is well known to all who have occasion to wear a Truss, that its great excellence consists in its adaptation to the body at the same time relieving the patient. Any ordinary mechanic may make a Truss but none but a skilful practitioner can apply it in such a manner as effectually, and afford the radical cure the complaint.

Our experience has convinced us that Mr Foster has thoroughly attained this knowledge. The certificates of Dr. J. C. Warren, and other eminent surgeons which he has shown to us, fully sustain the opinion we here express.

THIS remedy has won for itself such notoriety from its cures of every variety of pulmonary disease, that it is entirely unnecessary to recount the evidences of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use through this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been and that the Genuine article is sold in Bangor by G. W. Emerson, G. F. Sargent, Guild & Harlow, S. E. Perkins, W. L. Alden, Thayer's Brown, and by all other druggists.

AYER'S PILLS.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A

FAMILY PHYSIC.

THERE has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a physical pill but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, unless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Languor and Loss of Appetite, Listlessness, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all these are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Costiveness, Piles, Colic, Dysentery, Humors, Scrofula and Scurvy, Colds with soreness of the body, Ulcers and impurity of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required.

They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Palpitation of the Heart, Pains in the Back, Stomach and Side. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action and restores the appetite and vigor. They purify the blood, and, by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, renovate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosing should never be carried too far, as every purgative medicine reduces the strength, when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a physic is required, cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed this pill will answer a better purpose than any thing which has hitherto been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine.

DR. MORSE'S Invigorating Cordial,

Phenomenon in Medicine.

Health Restored & Life Lightened by Dr. Morse's Invigorating Elixir, or Cordial.

For centuries Medical science has been ransacking the vegetable and mineral kingdoms in search of something that should restore the lost energy, give strength to the nervous and muscular system, without the drawback of subsequent prostration which has until these too evident attempts had heretofore entailed.—That something has been found. It is a vegetable production, brought from the sterile deserts of Arabia the Stony, by the celebrated Professor M. Morse, well known as a distinguished member of the leading scientific societies of the Old World, and equally distinguished as a physician, a chemist and a traveller. The juices of this herb concentrated in a combination with other vegetable medicinal extracts are now presented to the world in this extraordinary compound. ... MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXIR OR CORDIAL, ... The public ... the simple and sublime truths announced by the discoverer. ... the highest class and character ... by a mass of testimony which is perfectly irresistible.

The ELIXIR remedies, in all cases, the deplorable evils arising from a misuse of abuse of the various organs which make up the wonderful and complicated machine called man. It restores to their pristine vigor the physical powers, ... It is recommended as the only and infallible means of restoring the natural appetites ... higher mental attributes. Its beneficial effects are not confined to either sex or to any age. The feeble girl, the ailing wife, the listless enervated youth, the overworn man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility, or from the weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief from the use of this incomparable renovator. ... that terrible malady ... have sunk into the depths of despair ... think themselves beyond the reach of medicine. Let not even these despair. The Elixir deals with the disease as it exists, without reference to causes, and will not only remove the disorder itself but

REBUILD THE BROKEN CONSTITUTION.

The derangements of the system leading to nervous diseases and the forms of nervous disease itself are so numerous that it would require a column to enumerate the maladies for which this preparation is a specific. A few however may be enumerated, viz: neuralgia, tic doloreux, headache, incipient paralysis, hysteria, palpitation of the heart, spinal affections, muscular debility, tremors, flatulence, a pricking sensation in the flesh, numbness, torpidity of the liver, mental depression, weakness of the will, indisposition to move, faintness after exercise, broken sleep and terrifying dreams, inability to remain in one place or position, weakness of the procreative organs, sexual incompetency, melancholy, monomania, fluor albus, sinking at the stomach, female irregularities, a chronic tendency to miscarriage, emaciation and all complaints growing out of a free indulgence of the passions, and all barrenness that does not proceed from organic causes beyond the reach of medicine.

Whenever the organs to be acted upon are free from malformation or stricture, diseases it is averred that

MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXIR

Will replace weakness with strength, incapacity with efficiency, irregularity with uniform and natural activity, and this not only without hazard of reaction, but with a happy effect on the general organization. Bear in mind that all maladies, wherever they begin, finish with the nervous system, and that the paralization of the nerves of motion and sensation is physical death. Bear in mind also that for every kind of nervous disease, the Elixir Cordial is the only reliable preparation known.

CURE OF NERVOUS DISEASES.

No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change, which it occasions in the diseased, debilitated and shattered nervous system, whether broken down by excess, weak by nature or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once braced, revivified and built up. The mental and physical symptoms of nervous disease vanish together under its influence. Nor is the effect temporary, on the contrary, the relief is permanent for the cordial properties of the medicine reach the constitution itself, and restore it to its normal condition.

LOSS OF MEMORY.

Confusion, giddiness, rush of blood to the head, melancholy, mental debility, hysteria, wretchedness, thoughts of self destruction, fear of insanity, hypochondriasis, dyspepsia, general prostration, irritability, nervousness, inability to sleep, diseases incident to females, decay of the propagating functions, hysteria, monomania, vague terrors, palpitation of the heart, impotency, constipation, etc. etc. from whatever cause arising, it is, if there be any reliance to be placed on human testimony, absolutely infallible.

A GREAT MEDICINE FOR FEMALES.

The unparalleled effects of this great restorative in all complaints incident to females mark a new era in the annals of medicine. Thousands of stimulants have been invented—thousands of invigorants concocted—all purporting to be specifics in the various diseases and derangements to which the delicate formation of woman render her liable. The result has hereto been a sheer uniform. These nostrums have indeed imparted a momentary vivacity to the nervous system, a transient and delusive vigor to the muscles, but this flash of relief has been succeeded by a depression and prostration greater than before; and the end has been to cripple entirely to paralyze the recuperative power of the nerves and the vital organization, and finally to destroy the unhappy patient.

EVERY WOMAN OF SENSE.

who suffers from weakness, derangement, nervousness, tremors, pains in the back or any other disorder, whether peculiar to her sex or common to both sexes—to give the Invigorating Cordial a trial.

MARRIED PERSONS,

or others, will find this Cordial after they have used a bottle or two a thorough regenerator of the system. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offspring, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for the many diseases for which it is recommended. Thousands of young men have been restored by using it and not in a single instance has it failed to benefit them.

PERSONS OF PALE COMPLEXION,

or consumptive habits are restored by the use of a bottle or two to bloom and vigor, changing the skin from a pale, yellow, sickly color, to a beautiful florid complexion.

TO THE MISGUIDED

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the back and limbs, pains in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, nervous irritability, derangement of the digestive functions, general debility, symptoms of consumption, &c.

Mentally, the fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self distrust, love of solitude, timidity, &c. are among the evils produced. All thus afflicted should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness; indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with your own.

PARENTS AND GUARDIANS

are often misled with respect to the causes and source of diseases in their sons and wards. How often do they ascribe to other causes of wasting of the frame, idiocy, madness, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, derangement of the nervous system, cough and symptoms indicating consumption, when the truth is, that they have been indulging in a pernicious, though alluring practice destructive both to mind and body.

CAUTION.

In future all the genuine Cord al will have the proprietor's facsimile pasted over the cork of each bottle, and the following words blown in the glass:—

"Dr. Morse's Invigorating Cordial.
